Independent Development Projects

Personal Site: www.jdbaker.net

SpaceX: Built a simple ASP.NET MVC application to interact with the SpaceX API. The landing page displays a JavaScript countdown to the next launch. The other page displays information about all launches gathered with C# in a separate layer of the application that could easily be utilized in another project.

Agency LMS: Created a secure data-driven ASP.NET MVC application from design through deployment for managing an employee's progress through a direct support agency's training and education courses. Employees can view courses, which are divided into one or more lessons and then check their progress and expiration dates on courses they've completed. Managers can view the progress of the employees under them and are automatically emailed when one of their staff completes a course.

Superheroes, Inc.: Designed a secure data-driven ASP.NET MVC application for a fictional charity offering the community classes taught by superheroes. This application was developed in Team Development class at Centriq Training. Students developed their application in an Agile environment, utilizing Scrum ceremonies, Kanban boards, and source control. Students were only permitted to work on this project during school hours over the course of two days.

Background and Experience

Worked for 10+ years in the home healthcare field directly supporting individuals with developmental and intellectual disabilities in their home and the community. This experience serving others has cultivated problem solving and critical thinking skills. Caring for individuals with a wide variety of abilities and needs requires active listening skills as well as a high level of sensitivity. As an experienced direct support professional provided mentoring and training to team members and also provided management support as lead staff.
